

NETRIKON APPMIGRATOR

THE AUTOMATED CODE MOVE SOLUTION FOR ORACLE APPS

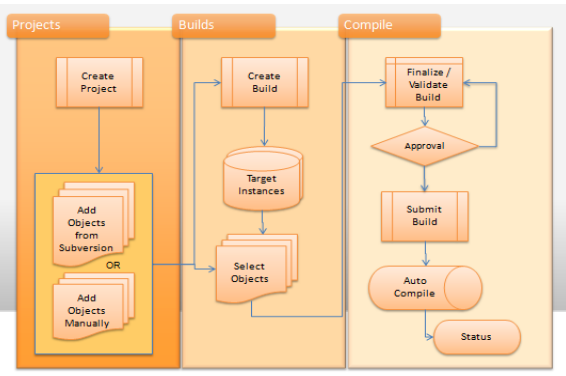

MANUALLY MIGRATING ORACLE APPS CODE?

Are you manually migrating Oracle Apps code? If so, you already know how tedious, labor intensive and error prone this process could be. Introducing, 'appMigrator'! Netrikon brings you appMigrator, an automation solution that dramatically reduces the burden of migrating code objects from and between Oracle Apps instances. appMigrator automates your entire build easily significantly reducing cost while also improving productivity.

HOW DOES APPMIGRATOR HELP?

- Netrikon appMigrator helps by shortening your build and release cycle from weeks or hours to minutes allowing you to better support your business needs.
- It allows your release and development teams to collaborate and align themselves by leveraging visibility, measurement and management of projects and builds in ways they could previously only dream of.
- By practically eliminating errors, appMigrator reduces application downtime, appMigrator is designed to eliminate wastage in terms of time and effort. The simplicity of the process allows you to create a build once and use or reuse it, practically eliminating the need for the mad rush before go live! A detailed validation process and an inbuilt approval workflow process ensure the quality of the build. Direct integration with subversion means that developers and apps dba's do not need to waste time downloading / uploading objects for the code move. Don't have a version control set up? That's fine too, appMigrator allows for both direct integration with subversion or manual upload of objects.

SIMPLIFIED PROCESS
